Defeats Strong Claresholm Team

Champion defeated a crack baseball team from Claresholm on Sunday, June 24th, by a score of 5-4.

Champion scored in the second inning, R. Latif coming in followed by A. Latif, on a two base hit by Anderson. In the sixth inning three more runs were run in for Champion and one for Claresholm. In the eighth inning, due to a number of tough breaks, Claresholm chalked up three runs, making the score 5-4, at which it stood until the end.

Steves hurled a good game for Champion with Matlock receiving. Ferguson took the mound for the last inning retiring the first three men.

The game was a feather in Champion's cap, because Clares had only lost one game to date during the season's play. Now the teams are even, two losses each for the season. When the teams meet again it should be a very interesting game because of the honor which will go to the winning team.

Bridge Players Lose to Vulcan

Champion bridge players were defeated by Vulcan at a tournament held last Friday night at Dr. Carson's home in Vulcan. This was a return engagement, the previous encounter being won by Champion. Since the score now stands at one all, further encounters are anticipated. Duplicate is played at these tournaments, and consequently, all contestants are prevented from producing alibis, based upon poor cards. John Dorch and Dr. Heel have acted as managers, and the success of these parties is largely due to their excellent management, aided by B. F. and N. A. Cool as directors of ceremonies.

Weed Control

Canada Thistle flourishes in varying degrees in all parts of Western Canada. It is a native of Europe and was one of the earliest weeds introduced into Canada. The North-West Grain Dealers' Association has financed a survey conducted by Professors G. P. McRae and W. Thompson to determine the most satisfactory means of controlling this weed. The results of this study have been prepared in pamphlet form and these are now available without charge at all line country elevators along with other pamphlets dealing with control of couch grass, sow thistle and details as to the loss caused through weeds in Western Canada.

Canada Thistle spreads through seed, running roots, seed grain and manure. It causes damage through encroaching on field and forage crops; by taking plant food and moisture from and reducing value of crops; by increasing the difficulty of cultivation and making necessary the purchase of special machinery as well as causing increased cultivation and more frequent summerfallow. The booklet outlines that the means of controlling this weed is through keeping the infested land entirely black for one complete growing season. Means of doing this are outlined for various types of soil as well as control through chemicals and smothering. Much valuable information is contained in these pamphlets and farmers are urged to obtain them from any line elevator agent.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, despite the fact that Camilla's father, until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to make his way. His scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family.

When she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in hope of having a better life. Other girls in the story are Avia Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter away from Camilla, and Mrs. Matson, his former mother-in-law, with whom he has quarreled.

After a year of separation, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep. They are discovered by a boy. It is early morning and Avia and another boy are standing near them. This boy is the son of the man who is to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to take off his coat and earrings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla leaves, the boy goes to Avia Werth and calls and pestulates her.

Peter returns and after getting a loan of $1,000, Peter takes his coat and earrings off and Camilla for suggestions as to a name for her. Camilla suggests "Avia" for Youth and "Avia, Impudent."

Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla heartbreak goes to Peter for the work he does for him.

Peter and Avia follow later, and as the lights are turned down the stage has been prepared for the arrival of the situation. She seemed to appear interested, as she would have been in any other such prospect.

"What kind of things are you doing for her?" she inquired curiously.

"I don't know. Some old sailor friend, and garden pieces for her mother. That is what I've got to get busy and find out. It means that I'll have to go to the Werths for tea and inspect their gardens with alert eye to what is blooming in my line, nosegay and plan with them. It's a week-end start, anyway."

He agreed, however, that Camilla's plan for an afternoon and a picnic supper in the woods, was a jolly idea, and Camilla hoped for a glorious autumn day for their first opportunity of the kind in a long time. Providence was kind and provided a perfect atmosphere.

It was the kind of autumn day that had inspired poets to sing of golden sunshine, flaming foliage, mad gaiety—the grand finale of nature's triumphal symphony of the year.

to do there, and you are away all day."

"But it's a pleasant place to rest and I thought it would be a good change for you."

"Say, I'm not invalid. I have to be busy—doing something. You don't understand. I want to go to work for that exhibit prize, expecting to win you?" He laughed ironically.

"From now on, I am going to accomplish something worthwhile. I already have a standing order from Avia and I'm going to get to work on it."

At every mention of Avia's name Camilla experienced a shock of pain, but she could not explain the reason for her sudden accusation of Camilla after the tragedy. She was trying desperately to separate her from Peter's love. Camilla had given the belief that she never could do that, but Peter was changed, but not because his love for her had changed. It was his work and anxiety and then the final crushing disappointment that had caused him to die fast and gassy. She only pitied him and yearned to do something for him which would restore him to the normal bonny Peter of the springtime of their love.

Her remonstrant starting work on some project for Avia brought to her mind reluctant visions of their hours of consultation and planning together. Avia would make the most of that opportunity, which was undoubtedly the reason that Camilla had Peter do the work. Of course, she was glad for Peter to have a good client like Avia, just now when he had needed definite encouragement, she tried to assure herself. But there was still the trying of the significance of the situation. She seemed to appear interested, as she would have been in any other such prospect.

"What kind of things are you doing for her?" she inquired curiously.

"I don't know. Some old sailor friend, and garden pieces for her mother. That is what I've got to get busy and find out. ## British Speed Ace Beaten

Youth Defeats Malcolm Campbell In Home-Made Car

A youngster in what was virtually a home-made car had the thrill of besting the world's famous Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's fastest land speed record. It happened at Brooklands in the fourth race.

He was W. E. Harker and he proudly called his car "The Harker Special." It was driven by two M.G. engines coupled up with great skill by this young engineer. Campbell's car was the giant Sunbeam of 3,976 c.c. The Harker Special was only 1,022 c.c.

Campbell started scratch. Mr. Harker in his homemade car had a start of 31 seconds. Campbell drove with all his accustomed skill. He overhauled the whole field, but found his master in Mr. Harker and his Harker car.

Speedy Rail Service

C.P.R. Provides Faster, More Frequent Service Between Regina and Moose Jaw

The Canadian Pacific has inaugurated a special gas-electric service between Regina and Moose Jaw, making seven trips each way daily except Sunday. The distance is 260 miles. In addition, fares have been reduced as follows:—One way $1.25, return $1.85 with special week-end fare of $1.45.

This particularly fast and comfortable service between the two cities should prove very convenient for passengers traveling with the travelling public.

A New-Found Continent

Discovered On Pacific Floor By Echoes From Depth Finder

Mountains higher than Mount Everest, huge plateaus twice the size of America and great depths of six miles or more—such were—these are characteristics of a new-found "continent." This hitherto unknown territory stretches beneath the surface of the North Pacific, bounded by the submerged floor of the U.S.S. Resolute.

Together, they collected dry wood for a crackling, sizzling fire, watched the smoke curling up, and then the red coal embers which drew in the heat of the glowing warmth with the early retreat of the sun and the hushed approach of twilight.

Peter broiled the two club steaks for a crackling, sizzling fire, watched the smoke curling up, and then the red coal embers which drew in the heat of the glowing warmth with the aroma of bubbling coffee, pungent smoke and sharp tang of autumn air. They dined leisurely in the firelight, and turned again toward the street, the street light and heartache, bulletin, fortune and doghouse traffic which are known as civilization.

Will Not Be Exhibited

Inventor Consents To Suppression Of Idea Due To Safety

An interesting invention of the century, a death ray machine, will not be exhibited at the National Inventors' Congress at Omaha, Nebraska. President A. G. Burns, Oakwood, Calif., and Dr. Antonio Longoria, a Cleveland, Ohio, physician and electrical engineer.

"I witnessed a demonstration of the machine by invitation in Cleveland last October," Burns said. "Dr. Longoria turned the ray gun on a pigeon and killed it. The bird fluttered to the ground and died within a few seconds."

Physicians examined the candies and pronounced them perfectly harmless. "An amazing example of mass suggestion," said a physician.

A farmer from the 10th century would have had no great difficulty in familiarizing himself with the tools and implements in farm use 100 years ago, little progress had been made in farm equipment in 900 years.

There are 6,000 deaths annually in the United States from whooping cough.

"Blessed be the Lord who daily leadeth us with benefits." Psalm 48:19.

Source of life's refreshing springs
Whose presence in my heart sustains me,
The love ordains me pleasant paths,
The mercy orders all that pains me.

When I survey the occurrences of my life, and call into account the finger of God, I can perceive nothing but an abyss and mass of mercies, either in general to mankind or in particular to myself. These things which often cross our path, judgments, or misfortunes, to me who inquire further into them than their visible effects they both appear and have ever proved the secret and disseminated favors of his affection.—Sir T. Browne.

ADMINISTERING THE LAW

In Central Park, New York, on a hidden stretch of turf green in the Meadowlarks, some children were playing. Suddenly the lawn swooped down on them, hawk-like; two cops in a police car, big and sturdy, turned their car off the driveway swiftly shut it up onto the lawn and were ready to fly to a distance. They fluttered to the ground and were dead within a few seconds.

"Get off the grass!" The children ran. The cops backed their car around and scuttled away. Peace settled down again the little prostrates blades of grass struggled slowly back to their feet.

Good Crops Now Assured

A rain, starting early Tuesday morning and lasting till late in the evening, fell over the entire district. The rain gauge registered 1.10 inches of moisture. It caused general rejoicing as the crops had reached the stage where moisture was needed due to their heaviness following recent rains. June weather has been ideal for crop growth and at the present time a good crop is assured.

Champion baseball club and Clareholm met in Clareholm on Wednesday afternoon, playing a very close game. There was a large crowd present to see Champion take the short end of a 3-2 score. P. Bouyan had the misfortune to injure a leg while sliding into second, which will likely put Shorty out of the game for the season. Lucia, Steeves and Wattis were in the points for Champion.

For two generations farmers and custom threshermen have marveled at the unmatched toughness and durability of Avery cylinder teeth on Avery threshers. Now for the first time Avery makes teeth to fit all the above machines. And they're made so accurately that they save bushels of grain on every run.

The Avery Company is making these teeth because farmers and threshermen everywhere have asked them to make teeth for other makes of machines. They are of the same high quality material, and made in the same way as the famous Avery teeth.

Avery teeth will fit. They will last longer. They will thresh more bushels. And they use less power. Replace now with Avery teeth.
